1 Call Meeting to Order -- Board Chair Jeff Taylor

Good morning and welcome to another virtual meeting of the Indiana State University Board of Trustees. We are conducting these meetings via Zoom under the public health emergency declared by Governor Holcomb. Electronic public meetings are allowed under executive order 20-09 as amended and extended. This allows us to have this meeting without everyone present physically, but it does require us to do a few things a bit differently. One of those things is roll call on presence and on every vote. I will start with roll call of all the trustees.

Roll Call:

Kathleen Cabello, present
Robert Casey, present
Tanya McKinzie, present
Randall Minas, present
Edward Pease, present
Casey Phillips, present
Cynthia Powers, present
Kimberly Smith, present
Jeff Taylor, present

With everyone present, Chairperson Taylor called the meeting to order at 11:32 a.m.

Report of the Faculty Senate Chairperson -- Liz Brown

Greetings from the Faculty!

Most students have completed the semester and faculty have until noon this Tuesday to submit final grades. We are working hard to get the grading done to get to our much needed break.

Unfortunately, my break will be delayed. My internet went out yesterday afternoon, which brought my work to a screeching halt. Everything is online—exams, homework, email, telephone, ... Board of Trustees meetings. Since before Thanksgiving, I have been working at home to do my part in slowing the spread of COVID-19, but I am on campus today. After several phone calls to Spectrum, I think the problem is the router and after this meeting today, I'm off to Best Buy to purchase one and try to get it hooked up to reestablish this vital utility at home. I'm telling you this, not to garner sympathy (well, maybe a bit), but to reflect on how privileged all of us on this call are. I have an office on campus where I can finish my work if I cannot re-establish internet service at home. I can afford to go buy a new router and barely notice the cost. I could probably even figure out how to use my phone as a hot spot since I have unlimited cellular data.

For me, this is a minor inconvenience, but for many of our students, such an event could be catastrophic for their educational aspirations. Many could not afford a new router. They may not have a safe place to get internet outside their home. They may have minimal cell service and rely on wifi to use their device. This lack of connectivity could have implications for their performance in classes, not to mention all the other things for which we use the web.

We are well-set up here to support students on campus, but off campus? Not so much. My holiday wish is for you all to use your privilege and influence to advocate for the infrastructure needed for all Hoosiers who cannot afford it, or simply live in locations currently without service. The pandemic has made these gaps in access clearer and highlights the importance of internet access for education and other critical services, such as telehealth.

Thank you.

Report of the Staff Council Chairperson --Todd LaComba

We have all experienced some level of loss or suffering due to COVID-19. Some have contracted it, others have been quarantined due to it, all of us have altered the way we work in some fashion due to it. Personally, I experienced close personal loss just earlier this week due to COVID-19, and it reminded me how much has changed due to the pandemic.

What I have noticed on campus though is that community did not let the loss or suffering affect the level of service we provide. The Sycamore spirit is as strong as ever and is helping carry us through this dark time. I saw staff who remind others to mask up with confidence, and those staff responding by doing so without conflict. I saw faculty who supported their staff members throughout the semester. I saw students who chose to do the right thing without issue. I heard alumni praise us for our actions, efforts and low numbers of COVID. This is significant.

In our current climate it is easy to hone in on the negative, but I have found the staff at ISU sharing the positives that have and will come out of this situation we are in. Just last week, our executive team was sharing some of those with President Curtis and it is truly impressive to hear some of those positives coming out. Believe it or not, these positive lessons learned will help campus to be stronger coming out of the pandemic than we were going in.

I want to thank the entire staff of ISU for all you have and continue to do. Given everything that has transpired this year, the Staff Council cannot thank you enough and want you all to know we are here for you. I think it is safe to say that my executive team and the entire council are looking forward to a time where we can resume in person events and engagement, but we are planning to engage with our constituents virtually and the council is continually working on creative ways to do so. The light at the end of the tunnel is not that far off and if we keep the Sycamore Spirit going, this spring will be one of our best yet.

Report of the Vice President of University Advancement and CEO of the ISU Foundation -- Andrea Angel

Good morning trustees, President Curtis, my campus colleagues, and distinguished guests. What a semester it has been, right?! Although we have had to shift our approach to traveling and inviting alumni and friends back to engage donors for support, we have not slowed down. I would typically spend this time reporting on the Distinguished Alumni Awards, Philanthropy Awards and other stewardship events, but as we know, those just weren't possible this year. It didn't stop us from finding creative ways to thank our donors!

With our Executive Director of Stewardship and Constituent Relations, Kim Kunz leading the charge, we implemented a number of creative stewardship touches this fall. All honorees that would have been recognized during our annual philanthropy awards were mailed a celebration box that included a personalized video from President Curtis, students, faculty, and me, tasty treats and a bottle of our STATE Sauvignon Blanc. We have received multiple notes and emails from donors expressing their gratitude for these personal touches. For the second year, we sent all endowment contacts an upgraded endowment report which included a snapshot of the investment results for the foundation, an impact report on how their gift was positively changing lives on this campus, and the thank you notes from the students receiving those endowment scholarship funds. This year, we implemented two new stewardship elements, first, our annual reports to our donors that created annual scholarship funds to ensure these donors are properly thanked and shown the impact of their gifts. Secondly, the members of the Dale McKee Society will begin receiving their custom lapel pins indicating 25, 10, and 5 consecutive years of giving back to ISU.

Our advancement team has grown by three members since the last Board of Trustees Meeting. Tom Gray, Director of Development for the College of Arts and Sciences who is a Sycamore alumni, Dr. Dan Barwick, Director of Development for the College of Health and Human Services, and Austin Bishop, Annual Giving Coordinator. These three new members along with our current team are boldly engaging donors and moving philanthropy forward at ISU.

In closing, I am pleased to report our development results through the first five months of our current fiscal year. Gifts to Indiana State University totaled $8.5 million dollars through five months. A few important trends reflected in this overall number include:

- 15 new endowed funds have been created this fiscal year
- 31 donors have contributed a major gift, above $25,000, this fiscal year
- Gifts and pledges to the endowment equaled $1.8 million to-date.

Thank you again for allowing me to report on our important work. Happy Holidays everyone!

Report of the University President -- Deborah Curtis

COVID-19 Update and Virtual Commencement

- Today is the official end of the fall semester which has certainly been one like no other.
- I am so proud of our faculty, staff and students for their hard work and determined efforts that allowed us to remain in face-to-face classes right up to the Thanksgiving break. I cannot say thank you enough to everyone who helped make this possible.
- Recently, however, there has been an increase in COVID-19 cases, and we once again had to make the difficult decision to pivot our Winter Commencement to a virtual event. While we would prefer to celebrate our students' achievements together, we realize this is the right thing to do for the health and safety of everyone.
- The virtual Winter Commencement site will go live on Saturday, February 13th. Postponing until then will provide enough time to box up and mail graduates their material so it arrives in time for the virtual ceremony. December graduates are also invited to participate in the May ceremonies. Thank you again to all those who were involved in planning our in-person commencement exercises, and thanks especially to Jennifer Keller, Susan Powers, April Hay, and the entire staff of the Registrar's office for their quick transition to preparing a virtual experience. We are hopeful and optimistic that we will be able to return to our regular ceremonies in May.
- As we have done for the past nine months, we continue to work with local and state health officials to monitor positivity rates and make determinations regarding events and work arrangements. For example, our basketball games are currently being played without fans in the stands. In addition to the decision to delay the start of classes until January 19, we have also implemented staggered work schedules where possible for staff who can conduct their work remotely.
- We remain extremely grateful for all those employees who continue to do essential work on campus including public safety, facilities and power plant staff, and many others.
- I am very proud of the way the University has handled the pandemic. I have been emphasizing in our budget sessions with state officials that ISU has never closed, and we have never operated out of fear. We look forward to the upcoming vaccine which will allow us to return to some sense of normalcy. In the meantime, we will remain vigilant.

Social Mobility

- On the good news front, CollegeNet has released its annual Social Mobility Index which ranks colleges and universities across the U.S. on "providing a conduit for economic and social advancement."
- I am pleased to report that Indiana State University ranked first in the state among public and private institutions for the third year in a row and topped Indiana's public institutions for the sixth time in the past seven years.
- On the national level, CollegeNet ranked Indiana State among the top 11 percent.

- The Social Mobility Index measures the extent to which a college or university educates more economically disadvantaged students (with family incomes below the national median) at lower tuition and graduates them into good-paying jobs.
- We often talk about the transformative impact of an ISU education, and this survey shows, once again, that it is real.
- This is just one of the ways we're distinct — providing opportunities for affordable, high-quality education at a comprehensive university.

Recognition of Trustee Casey and other SCOB students

- In other good news, I would like to take a moment to congratulate Trustee Casey Philipps and his teammates, Samuel Bowen, Nick Burton, and Audrey Churchill, for winning the top prize in the Conexus Logistics Case Competition.
- The national contest provides students interested in supply chain and logistics, and advanced manufacturing careers with the opportunity to put real-life, decision-making skills to the test by solving a business case in only 24 hours. A second team from ISU placed third in the competition.
- The Scott College of Business has also had another team recently win a national competition. ISU students Hunter Diveley, Jeremy Brown, and Connor Lash placed first in their category at the National Team Selling Competition which took place in October.
- The competition, conducted virtually this year, is a premier sales event that brings together top-level sales talent who apply their classroom knowledge and experience in a realistic selling situation.
- The competition enables students to prepare for future sales careers by tackling real-world situations and connecting with corporate partners and recruiters.
- In both of these national competitions, our students beat out teams from institutions across the country. Congratulations to these outstanding students and to their faculty advisers for representing Indiana State in an exemplary fashion.

Strategic Planning KPIs

Each December, we report out on the Key Performance Indicators for the current strategic plan. As this information is displayed for each goal, I will highlight a few data points:

Goal 1:

- Significant increase in 1st and 2nd year retention rates
- Jump in 4-year graduation rate among all students as well as Pell-eligible students
- Stable overall degree production and increase in degrees awarded to at-risk students
- Continued growth in distance degrees awarded
- Maintaining affordability with only slight increases in tuition

Goal 2:

- 99% placement rate
- Several KPIs impacted by COVID-19 including internships, faculty professional development activities

Goal 3:

- Pandemic also impacted this goal's KPIs related to hours of community service completed and number of businesses and community organizations served by the Business Engagement Center
- Documented faculty community engagement, however, rose significantly

Goal 4:

- Increase in grant and contract activity
- Maintenance of our bond ratings at the AA- and A1 levels
- Improvement in student athlete grade point averages
- Continued growth in our fundraising efforts and the engagement of our alumni

Goal 5:

- Despite a year where many vacant positions were eliminated, especially on the staff side, we were able to maintain the diversity of our workforce. Strategies are being put into place under the Advancing Inclusive Excellence Plan to increase the diversity of our faculty and staff when we are able to do more hiring.

ICHE Performance-Based funding metrics:

- An important set of metrics is how the Commission for Higher Education and the Indiana General Assembly measure our performance and tie it to performance-based funding.
- I am pleased to be able to present at our budget hearings that Indiana State has improved in all but one area of the performance-based funding metrics for Indiana students.

Update on development of “Focusing on our Future Together” Strategic Plan

- Work on the new strategic plan, “Focusing on our Future Together: A Strategic Plan for Indiana State University,” continues.
- Goal committees are beginning to work on the development of strategies that will drive progress toward achieving each goal. Once those have been established, the committees will develop the Key Performance Indicators that will be tracked for the new plan.
- It is significant that the plan's title includes the word “Focusing.” This will be a four-year plan for the period of 2021 through 2025. Therefore, it is imperative that the plan focuses on what are the most significant priorities to accomplish during this short time. The pandemic and its economic impacts as well as the drop in the number of high school graduates will profoundly impact higher education. It is important that this plan addresses these challenges and positions the institution for the future.

- Dr. Brad Balch continues to lead the process and in addition to working with the goal co-chairs and committees, is soliciting input from across campus each step of the way.
- The draft plan will be presented to the Board at your February meeting. The plan will then go through another round of fine-tuning with the final plan being presented for your endorsement in May.

Advancing Inclusive Excellence Plan

- The annual report from the President's Council on Inclusive Excellence will be presented to the Board of Trustees at your February meeting. However, I would like to provide a brief update on some of the progress being made on the Advancing Inclusive Excellence plan.
- I would like to recognize the Council along with the Governance Units and departments across campus who have been working to implement the action items included in the plan which was released in September. The council, under the leadership of Dr. Rana Johnson, is responsible for monitoring progress on this plan.
- Here are just a few of the steps underway:
  - Equity, Diversity, Inclusive Excellence Liaisons have been named in each academic college to provide resources for faculty and staff on various issues related to diversity, equity, inclusion and social justice. This group meets monthly.
  - The Faculty Senate is actively investigating ways to improve representation particularly in leadership positions and is also reviewing faculty evaluation mechanisms.
  - Several efforts are underway to improve the diversity of ISU's workforce including the development of an action plan to identify hiring trends and potential barriers to hiring and retention. The University is also collaborating with Kentucky State University, an HBCU or Historically Black College or University, to create a pipeline for their graduates to access information regarding employment opportunities at Indiana State. The conversations have started in the area of information technology but could expand to other workforce areas.
  - The University is in conversations with an external consultant to conduct an internal review of salary disparities based on race.
  - Informal meetings with members of the local African-American community have taken place to discuss opportunities on ways ISU faculty, staff and students of color could better connect with the Terre Haute community.
  - Efforts to close the graduation gaps for students of color and Pell Grant recipients have been boosted by ISU's $2.5 million Lilly Endowment grant. We look forward to seeing the impact of this project.
  - Student Affairs is in the process of hiring a student ombudsperson who will serve as associate director of the Sycamore Cares program.
- Several other efforts are in process with a comprehensive update to be included in the Council for Inclusive Excellence Annual Report which will be presented in February.

Sesquicentennial Wrap-Up

- Last week, we hosted a virtual event featuring the official reopening of Hulman Center. I would like to thank Trustee Kathy Cabello for representing the Board of Trustees in the ribbon-cutting which was video-recorded for the virtual ceremony.
- I would also like to thank:
  - Lt. Governor Suzanne Crouch, Mayor Duke Bennett, State Senator Jon Ford, and State Representatives Bob Heaton, Alan Morrison and Tonya Pfaff for taking part in the ceremony and for their continued support for Indiana State University.
  - In addition to these officials, I would like to acknowledge former Governor Mike Pence, Senators David Long and Luke Kenley, Representatives Brian Bosma, Tim Brown and Representative Clyde Kersey for their support in funding this project.
- In addition, we were pleased to have Tony Hulman George join us in cutting the ribbon. Our creative special events team had an 82-foot ribbon designed to ensure social distancing for the ribbon-cutters and to pay tribute to Hulman Center's history by including images of some of the many events that have taken place in this wonderful community asset. Tony's portion of the ribbon included the photograph of his grandfather, Tony Hulman, cutting the ribbon at the original opening of Hulman Center in 1973. The Hulmans have been instrumental in the development of our campus with their philanthropic support throughout many decades, and we are extremely appreciative of their continued involvement.
- I would also like to recognize Former President Dan Bradley, Diann McKee and Greg Goode for their work in securing not only the $37.5 million in state funds for Hulman Center but the $63 million for the Health and Human Services Building in the same budget cycle.
- Thanks also goes to Ratio Architects and Hannig Construction, Bryan Duncan, Nancy Rogers and Fred Clark along with many others for their hard work on this project.
- The Hulman Center event marks the end of the five-year Sesquicentennial Era. To provide a brief recap of the Sesquicentennial, I would like to call upon Teresa Exline, Chief of Staff. We are also joined today by Provost Emeritus Jack Maynard who co-chaired the five-year celebration with Teresa.

Teresa Exline provided an overview of the Sesquicentennial's highlights including its signature events, lasting legacies and campus-wide involvement. She also recognized Provost Emeritus Jack Maynard who served as co-chair of the five-year celebration.

Thank you, Teresa. That concludes my report.

Report of the Board Chairperson -- Jeff Taylor

Thank you Dr. Curtis for that report and thank you for your leadership over these past trying months.

I would like to begin my remarks with an all too rare moment of joy and celebration amid our current circumstance. Today, we will approve the awarding of 732 new degrees. Sincere congratulations to all of those candidates and thank you to the friends, family and faculty that helped make it happen. Further, for those not graduating, but completing the fall semester, congratulations to you also as you are one step closer to your graduation goal. It is the goal we share for each and every learner at ISU, again congratulations all.

As we entered this year, the trustees and Dr. Curtis agreed our goal would be to do whatever we reasonably could to have a fall semester with students on campus and live instruction to the extent possible all without undue risk to anyone, faculty, staff or students. With the proviso that once the health risk became too great by any of the key metrics we identified, we would revert to online. I personally gave it a fifty-fifty chance that we would get through the whole semester on campus, and I may have been among the optimistic ones. However, we did it and largely as planned. I would like to spend the rest of my time acknowledging those who made it happen. Sincere and profound thanks to all of you here at ISU whose perseverance, resilience and creativity allowed us to complete the academic semester with on-campus instruction.

Specifically sincere and heartfelt thanks to the faculty for showing incredible flexibility and ingenuity in delivering high-quality educational instructions under most unusual conditions. We appreciate the extraordinary effort. Dr. Brown please pass along this message of sincere thanks from the trustees to all faculty members whenever you have the opportunity. It cannot be overstated.

To the staff whose ingenuity and persistence transformed our facilities to safer environments and kept our academic and living spaces as clean and safe as possible, our deepest thanks to you, too. Mr. LaComba please likewise pass this message along to all staff from the trustees.

To our students the burden of compliance with all of our safety protocols fell heavily upon you. They were almost unnatural, and you responded admirably. It was that conscientiousness and compliance that allowed this semester to be completed with on-campus instruction. We are acutely aware that this is not the ISU experience that you or any of us envisioned. For that, we are deeply sorry and especially for the seniors who will not have the chance to live their senior year as it should have been. I know the feeling as this is my senior year as chair of this board and I assure you this was not the year that I envisioned. However, there is yet a certain degree of satisfaction as there should be on the part of all of you in what you have accomplished under these circumstances.

Finally to Dr. Curtis, her cabinet and all of the ISU administration -- we agreed upon the goal that none of us had ever done this before, but with a can-do, safety-first attitude and with great attention to detail, a stringent mitigation protocol and a strong message of compliance emerged. Not all of the mitigation tactics were popular. Some folks were understandably unhappy or down right angry. No one was happy to skip homecoming, but however unpopular and unfun these measures collectively achieved the goal of an on-campus semester in all material respects. Dr.

Curtis and team thank you for your leadership. We know these necessary steps were not easy or always popular but we made it, and I thank you.

As one of my former bosses use to say, "Celebrate that for 15 minutes and then return to what yet confronts us."

As we look forward to next semester and beyond, I will start by quoting the American philosopher Yogi Berra -- "predictions are always hard especially ones about the future." It is indeed hard to know what even the near term future holds.

While there is good news on the vaccine front, the COVID infection rates currently are alarmingly high. Indiana's infection rates are nearly 10 times higher than last summer when we were planning for fall, think about that. On the positive side, we have a semester's experience behind us and that gives some confidence that we know how to do this safely. Where will things stand in mid-January of 2021 is unknown and frankly, a little scary. I think we begin next semester with the same goal as last with all safety protocols in place and then try to nimbly react to the change in the pandemic conditions, which will hopefully be to the positive.

My aspirational goal will be to have a live commencement ceremony in May at Hulman Center that approximates normal, fingers crossed. Beyond next semester and hopefully, that is largely post pandemic, the future of on-campus higher education is uncertain and a subject to a wide range of predictions. I personally believe the on-campus higher education experience will rebound, while online, as proven viable, it certainly is not optimal particularly for 18-year-old undergraduates. You may have heard me say that while I received an excellent academic education at ISU, I learned more in those four years outside the classroom than in.

I am optimistic that the substantially differentiated advantage of a four-year, away-from-home education will ultimately prevail. However, it will prevail in an ever more competitive environment, and particularly so for ISU. We will need to be very focused and intentional in our retention and recruiting efforts or we will find life ever more difficult. Our new strategic plan is in process and must address this challenge. I am sure that it will. Stay tuned. I am personally optimistic that we will thrive in the future.

3b1 ISU Housing and Dining Rates for 2021-22

The proposed rate increase for a Traditional residence hall room with a Standard meal plan, representing the majority of on-campus rooms, reflects an overall 1.5% increase for 2021-22. Freshman students are housed in residence halls assigned the Traditional room category. The Premium room rate is $500 per year more than the Traditional room rate and is assigned to select rooms within Reeve Hall with private baths. A limited number of single rooms will also be identified and offered to students in 2021-22 as a way to de-densify floors with pod style bathrooms. The housing rate for students selecting single rooms is $1,500 more per year than the double room rate based on room type. This rate is a reduction from 2020-21 to make it more affordable for students that have a health or safety need for a single room related to the impact of the pandemic.

3c1 Proposed Modifications to Policy 146 Bylaws of the Faculty Senate, Section 146.1 Standing Committees of the University Faculty Senate

Rationale: Faculty Senate addressed the language to clarify the process for alternates to standing committees.

Section 146.1.1 address the membership of standing committees, and section 146.1.1.4 specifically details the terms of service on standing committees.

The Office will consider the organization’s current level of membership before approving any major commitments of University space or other resources requested by the group. 450.6.1 Sycamore Standard. As responsible citizens of the campus community, members of registered student organizations should demonstrate through the group’s activities a commitment to the “Sycamore Standard”, a pledge that was formally adopted by the ISU Student Government Association in 2002 and adapted by the Policy Review Committee in 2013. The “Standard” states:

~~Students at Indiana State University are expected to accept certain personal responsibilities that constitute the “standard” for behavior in a community of scholars.~~

~~As a student at Indiana State University:~~

~~I will practice personal and academic integrity;~~

~~I will commit my energies to the pursuit of truth, learning, and scholarship;~~

~~I will foster an environment conducive to the personal and academic accomplishment of all students;~~

450.7 Student Government Association

Indiana State University acknowledges the Student Government Association (SGA) as the official “voice” of undergraduate and graduate students pertaining to participation in institutional decision-making. Positions on various University committees and task forces are reserved for representatives of SGA. The Association is also afforded the opportunity to make a report at each meeting of the University's Board of Trustees. SGA may offer resolutions to the University administration and faculty concerning matters of importance to ISU students, and it may also sponsor campus-wide referenda to determine student support for specific projects or proposals. Additional information regarding the functions and authority of the Student Government Association, the SGA Code, and various programs and services of student government may be obtained by contacting the SGA office in the Hulman Memorial Student Union.

450.8 Special Categories of Student Organizations

Although the following categories of student organizations may have unique aspects regarding their relationships with Indiana State University, each is expected to comply fully with University policies and procedures for student organizations, including the obligation to re-register at the beginning of each academic year.

450.8.1 Governing/Coordinating Organizations. Some student organizations exist for purposes of coordinating various other student groups on campus. Examples are the ~~Interfraternity, Panhellenic, and NPHC Councils, the Greek Tri-Council~~Greek governing councils, and the Residence Hall Association. Other organizations promote campus-wide programming or provide representation to a variety of University committees and functions. Examples include Union Board, the Black Student Union, the Graduate Students' Association, and the International Students Organization. These organizations are engaged by the University to act within defined roles as representatives of the student body. In some cases, they may also be empowered constitutionally to govern and coordinate the involvement of students or student groups affiliated with them. The University ~~assigns~~ may choose to assign specific staff advisors to work with these organizations.

450.8.2 Fraternities and Sororities. In the case of social/~~general~~ fraternities and sororities, the University's relationship with the organization is described in the "~~Statement of Values and Obligations~~Fraternity and Sorority Life Relationship Statement", a document defining the values and goals shared by Indiana State University and its fraternities and sororities. The Statement represents an agreement between the University and the national/international fraternal organizations. Local chapters, comprised of currently enrolled students, must operate in accordance with this agreement.

450.8.2.1 Good Standing. As an additional condition of its special status, a fraternity or sorority chapter must maintain good standing as a member of ~~the appropriate Greek governing/coordinating council (Interfraternity, Panhellenic, or Pan-Hellenic)~~a Greek governing council.- On that basis, the University affords Greek chapters expanded services and advisement.

450.8.2.2 Establishment of Chapter. It is expected that social/~~general~~ fraternities or sororities wishing to establish a chapter at ISU will first meet with the staff of the ~~Student Activities and Organizations~~Office of Campus LifeFraternity and Sorority Life to gain an understanding of current demographics of the ISU Greek system and the level of support available for a new organization. The organization must formally agree to support the "~~Statement of Values and Obligations~~",Fraternity and Sorority Life Relationship Statement," a document defining the values and goals shared by Indiana State University and its fraternities/sororities. If the organization wishes to proceed in establishing a local chapter, staff will offer advice concerning procedures and compliance with University policies and regulations.

450.8.2.3 Registration. Like other student organizations, fraternity or sorority chapters must first complete the registration process through the ~~Student Activities and Organizations~~Office of Campus Life. The group may then request affiliation with the appropriate Greek governing/coordinating council. The group must at all times operate in a manner consistent with the requirements of both the national/international organization and the University.

~~450.8.2.4 No Affiliations. Should a student group wish to organize a fraternity or sorority at Indiana State University without having the benefit of affiliation with a national/international organization, the University reserves the right to require that the group establish a legally incorporated entity whose specific responsibilities with regard to the student group are determined by the University to be substantially equivalent to those of a national/international fraternity/sorority.~~

450.8.3 Departmental Organizations. Certain other campus-based student groups may be organized under the auspices of an office or academic unit of the University. Such organizations exist solely to support purposes defined by that office or unit, and the leadership of that office or unit must accept responsibility for overseeing the organization's activities. Groups thus constituted will conduct all financial transactions through the offices of the University Controller. Departmental student organizations must also register with the ~~Student Activities and Organizations~~Office of Campus Life, and they must adhere to all policies and procedures established by the University.

450.8.3.1 Club Sport A Club Sport is defined as a registered student organization that exists to promote and develop interest in a particular sport or physical activity. The Club Sports Program provides a wide range of instructional, recreational, and competitive athletic opportunities, with an emphasis on student leadership, organization, and team management. Club sport organizations may select members through a tryout process. The Club Sports program is administered by the Office of Campus Recreation. Campus Recreation provides resources, assistance, and guidance to the individual clubs. Each club is formed, developed, governed, and administered by the student membership of that particular club and overseen by Campus Recreation. Club sports are subject to the rules and regulations found in the Code of Student Conduct, the Club Sports Handbook, as well as other applicable University policies and procedures.

450.8.3.2 Ad Hoc or Temporary Student Organizations. In some cases, a department may sponsor an ad hoc or temporary student organization in order to promote student participation in a University activity. Examples include intramural sports teams that enter a single competitive event or season, or committees formed for purposes of planning and presenting a department-sponsored program. Such organizations operate solely for the purposes defined by the department, and must comply with all expectations and directives established by the department. The status and existence of such groups terminate upon completion of that purpose.

450.8.4 Affiliated Groups. Student organizations affiliated with a governing/coordinating council or association must also adhere to the bylaws and agreements established within that council or association. Should such bylaws or agreements conflict with University policies, the University's policies will take precedence. Questions regarding jurisdiction and applicable policy should be directed to the ~~Student Activities and Organizations for~~ Office of Campus Life for Office of Campus Life for resolution.

450.9 Off-campus Property of Student Organizations

Under no circumstances does Indiana State University assume responsibility for student-occupied property that is not owned by or managed under contract by the University. Provision of advice and counsel regarding such facilities should not be construed as acceptance of responsibility by the university. Similarly, disciplinary action imposed by the University in response to off-campus student/organization misconduct should not be interpreted as the University's acceptance of responsibility for property that it does not own or manage under contract.

~~450.10 Review, Suspension, or Revocation of Registration~~

~~The relationship between Indiana State University and its students is defined by the published policies, procedures and regulations of the University. These policies, procedures and regulations also apply to groups that organize on the campus.~~

~~450.10.1 Organizational Discipline. In accordance with the Code of Student Conduct, the University reserves the right to enact disciplinary measures when a student or a student organization engages in misconduct either on or off campus. Organizational discipline may include reprimand, probation, suspension of privileges, temporary suspension of status as a registered campus organization, or dissolution of all relationship with the University.~~

~~450.10.2 Discipline of Individual Members. When a student organization is reported to have violated the Code of Student Conduct, judicial procedures established and administered by the Office of Student Judicial Programs will apply. In a case of misconduct involving a student organization, individual members may face disciplinary charges simultaneously with the organization as a whole. Student organizations operating as chapters or units of a larger organization (ex., national fraternity or sorority) may also face charges concurrently at the University and at the parent organization in accordance with that organization's policies.~~

~~450.10.2.1 Relationship to Criminal Justice System. University judicial process is administrative in nature, and is intended to be part of the educational process. As such, it should not be confused with actions of the criminal justice system. Consequently, a student or group may simultaneously face charges in the University judicial and criminal justice systems stemming from the same set of circumstances.~~

450.10 Review, Suspension, or Revocation of Registration

The relationship between Indiana State University and its students is defined by the published policies, procedures and regulations of the University. These policies, procedures and regulations also apply to groups that organize on the campus.

450.10.1 Organizational Discipline. In accordance with the Code of Student Conduct, the University reserves the right to enact disciplinary measures when a student or a student organization engages in misconduct either on- or off-campus. Organizational discipline may include reprimand, educational outcomes, probation, loss of privileges, temporary suspension of status as a registered campus organization, or dissolution of all relationship with the University.

450.10.1.1 Relationship with Larger Organizations Student organizations operating as chapters or units of a larger organization (ex., national fraternity or sorority) may also face charges concurrently at the University and at the parent organization in accordance with that organization's policies.

450.10.1.2 Relationship to Criminal Justice System. University conduct process is-is intended to be part of the educational process. As such, it should not be confused with actions of the criminal justice system.

Recommendations: This information is provided to the Board of Trustees for information only. The administration plans to request approval of the policy at the February 2020 meeting.

3c3 Proposed Modifications to Policy 665 Indiana State University Naming

Naming decisions related to a building, a chair or professorship, an academic program or college, will be made subsequent to or concurrent with approval of the establishment of the facility, program or academic entity by the President and his/her cabinet, and in some cases the Board of Trustees. - The proposed name does not imply the University's endorsement of a partisan political or ideological position or commercial product; provided, however, that the proposed

Unless otherwise agreed to in the gift agreement and as approved by the President or as set forth in Section 665.10, an approved name will remain in use for the life of the facility, property or academic entity. However, there are situations that could cause the removal of the name either during the planning process or after project completion.

- When the named facility or property is demolished, accidentally destroyed by fire or natural disaster, or is otherwise no longer in existence, the name will not be transferred to a new facility except in such cases when a useful facility is relocated to serve the greater interest of the University. The transfer of the name will be approved by the Board of Trustees.
- The name on an existing or proposed facility, property or academic entity may be removed if its continued use calls into serious question the public trust afforded to the University, is contrary to Indiana State University's mission, vision, and values, or would otherwise reflect adversely upon the University.
- The name of the facility, property or academic entity may be removed if a benefactor ceases payment on a pledged donation for the facility, property or academic entity.
- In the case of corporate donors, the name of the facility, property or academic entity may be changed to reflect a new corporate name resulting from the company's decision to change its name or a corporate merger.
- If the University is unable to complete the project, or establish the program or endowment, the potential benefactor will be entitled to redirect, retract or seek a refund of their contribution.
- In those instances where a building has been razed, property eliminated, accidentally destroyed by fire or natural disaster or an academic entity has been discontinued, the University will make every effort to recognize the individual, family or corporation in question in a manner consistent with the original naming and in consultation with the donor, when possible. With respect to a former building and upon approval by the President, recognition will include an official marker identifying the site for posterity.

Removal of an approved name may be initiated by the President, the Vice President for University Advancement, or a member of the ISU Board of Trustees pursuant to Policy 126 Policies and Procedures of the ISU Board of Trustees. The University Naming Committee will review the name removal and provide a recommendation to the President. ## 3e New Program Graduate Licensure in Exceptional Needs: Intensive Intervention

The rationale for the program is a current shortage of educators licensed to teach students with intense exceptional needs. Students with intense exceptional needs (Autism Spectrum Disorder, Emotional Disability, Moderate Intellectual Disability, Multiple Disabilities, Orthopedic Impairment, Severe Intellectual Disability, Traumatic Brain Injury, and Other Health Impairment) require educators with specialized expertise; however, data shows that people educating this student population lack appropriate licensure. Based upon our survey completed by 63 administrators throughout the state of Indiana, 73% indicated a need for one or more educators licensed in intense interventions.

The license is comprised of 12 credit hours. Students will need to hold a professional education license.

Recommendation: Approval of the creation of the Graduate Licensure in Exceptional Needs: Intensive Intervention effective summer 2021, pending approval by Indiana Department of Education.

Chairperson Taylor suggests that 3e and 3f to be approved together.

Motion made by: Ed Pease

Motion seconded by: Casey Phillips

3f Reactivation of Program Master of Science in Athletic Training

After the 2017-18 academic year, the Master of Science in Athletic Training was suspended given concerns from the accrediting organization.

The program has worked to revise the curriculum to meet the 2020 standards of the accreditor. This process has resulted in a totally redesigned curriculum, consisting of 21 totally new courses, that aims to effectively prepare evidence-based, patient-centered clinicians that are able to think critically in an ever-changing healthcare landscape.

Recent changes in accreditation no longer allow baccalaureate preparation for athletic training. Students must complete a post-baccalaureate program to be eligible to sit for the certification exam. The program was previously suspended with the ICHE.

Recommendation: Approval of the creation of the Master of Science in Athletic Training effective summer 2021, pending approval by ICHE.

Chairperson Taylor suggests that 3e and 3f to be approved together.

3g Naming of the Dick Hay Memorial Art Annex

This item is to request Board of Trustees approval of the naming of the Dick Hay Memorial Art Annex. The naming of the art annex is made possible by a cash gift of $100,000 from Richard C. and Carla R. Hay of Winter Garden, FL, the son and daughter-in-law of emeritus professor, Dick Hay.

Richard Edward "Dick" Hay was born November 19th, 1942, and passed away on April 23rd, 2020. Professor Hay received his Bachelor of Fine Arts from Ohio University in 1964, and his Master of Fine Arts from Alfred University in 1966, the same year he began as an Instructor in the Department of Art and Design at Indiana State University. By 1980, he attained the rank of Professor.

Professor Hay was a founding member and served as President of NCECA, the National Council on Education in the Ceramic Arts. In 1988, he received the Caleb Mills Award for Distinguished Teaching at ISU and was recognized as a Teaching Fellow by the Center for Teaching and Learning. In 1989, he was recognized by the State of Indiana as an Art Treasure of the State. He was invited to lecture at over 100 universities worldwide.

Professor Hay received the Excellence in Teaching Award from the National Council on Education for the Ceramic Arts in 2003. Previously, he had been named Fellow of the Council by NCECA for his outstanding service to the organization. In 2010, a documentary film, Dick Hay: Artist, Teacher, and Mentor, was produced by NCECA and Judy Kelly Productions. He said, "My artwork is just my contribution to living. Hoping to enrich the experience." In 2006, Professor Hay retired from ISU after 40 years of service. As Professor Emeritus, he remained active, working in his home studio every day.

The donors of this generous gift are ISU alumnus, Richard Hay, a Magna Cum Laude graduate from Indiana State University in 2000 with a Bachelor of Science degree in English, and his wife Carla. Richard was a member of the Student Alumni Association, photo editor for the Statesman, editor-in-chief for ISU's IQ Magazine and a writing center consultant. Richard and Carla, own Twenty Six Design, which is a premier provider of customer-centered software, design, and management solutions.

The amount of the gift for this naming opportunity is consistent with the Indiana State University Naming Policy.

Recommendation: Leadership recommends approval of the naming of the Dick Hay Memorial Art Annex at Indiana State University.

3h Naming of the North American Lighting Student Success Center

This item is to request Board of Trustees approval of the naming of the North American Lighting Student Success Center at the College of Technology. The naming is made possible by a cash pledge of $142,500 from North American Lighting in Paris, IL.

$100,000 of the gift will be allocated to the College of Technology supporting Mechanical Engineering Technology Lab Enhancements, Mechanical Engineering Technology Scholarships, STEM education experiential learning programs, and College of Technology student success initiatives and networking opportunities.

$42,500 of the gift total will support scholarships within the Scott College of Business and Honors College, a sponsorship of Sycamore Athletics, and programming support for the Career Center, and the Department of Art and Design within the College of Arts and Sciences. A partnership between North American Lighting and Indiana State University was forged in 2018 resulting in philanthropic commitment of $75,000 over three years. The partnership has supported student success and tutoring programs, increased student retention, and provided experiential learning opportunities. North American Lighting has created a robust network of professional employment for Sycamore graduates.

North American Lighting's vested interest in student development and workplace readiness has touched numerous colleges and departments on the ISU campus. This new commitment from North American Lighting further enhances opportunities for those aspiring to reach their educational goals at Indiana State University, while positively shaping communities in which Sycamore graduates call home.

The amount of the gift for this naming opportunity is consistent with the Indiana State University Naming Policy.

Revenues

State Appropriations

The State of Indiana due to loss of tax revenues related to COVID-19 placed a reserve of 7 percent on the University operating and line item appropriations for fiscal year 2020-21. This amounts to $5,044,478 reduction of operating appropriation. The University has reserved $3 million of carry-forward budget to help offset this loss.

Student Tuition

Tuition revenue is below last year by $3,695,249. Fall tuition is below budget by $1,557,748 and will be reduced further when Fall revenue sharing programs are distributed. The loss of tuition is offset by a budgeted reserve of $4 million.

Other Fees and Charges

Other Fees and Charges are below last year by $31,911. This is a result of reduced undergraduate and graduate admission application fees and change of course fees.

Other Income and Transfers

Other Income and Transfers are down from the prior year by $271,203. This is due to a reduction of Residential Life Utility reimbursement due to taking Lincoln Quad off-line and a timing difference on IU Medical Center reimbursement.

Encumbrances and Carryforward

Encumbrances and Carryforward increased by $2,313,809 from the prior year. Encumbrance decreased by $596,795 while carryforward increased by $2,910,604. This increase in carryforward is due to reduced student wages, travel and office supplies as the result of reduced operation resulting from response to COVID-19. The University has reserved $3 million of this to help offset the loss of state appropriation.

Expenses

Compensation

Total Compensation is below last year's total by $1,457,037. Salaries and Wages are down from the prior year by $1,202,271 which is the result of reduced administrative, instructional, support staff, and student wages. Benefit expense is below last year's amount by $254,766 due to reduced medical insurance, retirement, and FICA charges. This was partially offset by increased retirement incentive payouts and increased unemployment benefits.

Departmental Expenses

Total Departmental Expenses decreased by $2,366,508. Supplies and Related Expenses decreased by $2,340,818 as a result of reduced travel, marketing, first year experience, and office supplies. Repairs and Maintenance decreased by $122,308 due to reduced general building repairs that were partially offset by increased software maintenance. Other Committed Expenses increased by $96,618 due to increased insurance premiums.

Utilities and Related Expenses

Utilities and Related Expenses decreased by $208,271 from the prior year reflecting lower electrical and water costs.

Student Scholarship and Fee Remissions

Student Scholarship and Fee Remissions shows an increase of $9,090. The overall scholarship shortfall is projected to be $3,026,000. The Sycamore Technology award is down by $463,370 that reflects lower enrollment. The expected $913,510 reversion will be used to help offset the scholarship shortfall.

Academic Debt Service

Academic Debt Service includes fee replacement for academic facilities that are funded by the State of Indiana and the non-fee replaced debt service that is funded by interest income. The increase of $3,605,937 includes the balloon payment of Series P and the addition of Series T.

Budgeted Reserve

The Budgeted Reserve of $4,000,000 will be used to cover tuition revenue shortfalls.

Transfers Out and Program Fees

Transfers Out and Program Fees decreased by $295,158 to reflect reduced lab fees.

Reserve for State Appropriation

Reserve for State Appropriation reflects the $3,008,022 set aside to help offset the reduction in state operating appropriation revenues.
