

INSTRUCTIONAL LEADERSHIP PHD

Learn to design and implement innovative curriculum as you prepare to contribute toward best practices in teaching and learning, with an Instructional Leadership PhD from Indiana State University. This degree path is ideally suited to academic faculty, researchers, practice educators, and educational leaders with a master's degree or advanced practice/clinical doctorate.

WHY CHOOSE OUR PROGRAM?

Students in the Instructional Leadership PhD program at Indiana State University are preparing to shape the future of education. In this 60-credit, cohort-based program, you will gain instructional expertise in creating and leading effective classroom learning environments.

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

- Research Core (15 credits + 18-credit dissertation)
- Curriculum & Instructional Core (15 credits)
- Leadership & Innovation Core (12 credits)

OUTCOMES

- Demonstrate the ability to advance knowledge through scholarship.
- Design and implement curriculum and instruction.
- Evaluate and improve instructional quality.
- Promote a positive and inclusive learning environment through best practices, leadership, and innovation.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS INCLUDE:

- Earned Master's Degree or Advanced Practice/Clinical Doctorate
- Institutionally certified transcript(s) of all graduate-level credits
- Letter of application
- Two letters of recommendation

Go ALL IN on becoming a leading teacher with your Instructional Leadership doctorate from Indiana State University!

For more information, please contact Program Director Dr. Lindsey Eberman.
Lindsey.Eberman@indstate.edu | 812-237-5361