Report of the Faculty Senate Chairperson – Dr. Liz Brown

Thank you and greetings. I will say that faculty and students both have had a very interesting 24 hours. And I'm sorry, you know, it's not nice when you have interesting times happening during finals week. But we are making it through. Canvas is back on. And I think both faculty and students are working together to make sure that things go smoothly, which is fantastic. I have some ideas that I'll be talking with Provost Balch about to, if anything like this happens again, what we can do to even make it smoother. So we're on. Looking forward to commencement tomorrow and seeing you all there. Thanks.

Report of the Staff Council Chairperson – Roxanne Torrence

Thank you. Over the past year, our fundraising efforts generated nearly $1,000 from the Staff Council Scholarship Fund. Thanks to this success, we are pleased to award 9 scholarships of $500 each and two scholarships of $400 to deserving staff members.

These recipients will be announced at our annual meeting next week.

This support reflects our commitment to recognizing the valuable contributions of our staff. In addition to our scholarship efforts, our community operation engagement committee organized a donation drive benefiting the Hopton Tales Rescue Center. This initiative raised more than $800 in support of their report work. In March, Staff Council held its annual representative elections.

We are pleased to welcome 9 returning representatives and one new member to the council. Elections from 2026-2027 officers were finalized yesterday, and I'm honored to continue to serve as chair.

Joining me on the executive committee are Chris Keeper, Crystal Johnson, Pam Malone, and Terry Mint.

Looking ahead, the newly appointed Executive Committee will soon begin assigning members to our standing committees and establishing priorities for the upcoming year. Additionally, we will be combining two of our committees to better align responsibilities and improve efficiency moving forward. Staff Council remains committed to recognizing staff contributions, supporting professional development, and serving the sense of community across the peoples.

Report of the Student Government Association Outgoing President—Chase Witsman

Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen of the Board of Trustees. To begin, I'd like to reflect on this year and all that was accomplished yesterday. I'm incredibly grateful for the time I've had in this role and the commitment that I was able to give to my position.

It's truly been a unique once in a lifetime opportunity, and I'm so blessed that I was able to have it here at Indiana State.

I know that I've done all I can to ensure Indiana State University government is active internally, sound, and student focused. My team and I have dedicated ourselves all year to ensuring that SGA is an organization that's strong, stable, and capable of holding up for years to come.

This position, and this institution has given me so much. And while this is the end of a chapter for me, I'm grateful that I still have one more year to spend here at the university.

Now, I'm excited to introduce my successor as the next student body president. I've had the privilege of working with Olivia for the past three years. We've been involved in the same leadership organizations since we arrived on campus. During this time, Olivia has demonstrated to me that she wants nothing but the best for all our students, that she is driven, compassionate, and ready to take charge of this organization.

I am so excited that SGA is down in her hands. I can't wait to see what she will do in this position because I know it will be great. With that, I thank the board for the continued commitment to the university for allowing me to attend these meetings and represent student voices.

I thank the university for giving me a chance to pursue a position like this where I've truly been able to grow and thrive.

It's now my pleasure to introduce to you the next duty vice president, Olivia Lancaster.

Report of the Student Government Association Incoming President—Olivia Lancaster

Good afternoon, everybody. Thank you so much for your time today. As Chase stated, my name is Olivia Lancaster. I am grateful to serve as the next president for the 64th Student Government Association Administration.

On behalf of the incoming administration, I am excited to share some of our goals for the upcoming academic year. Throughout our campaign, we ran on a non-traditional platform centered around the acronym Sycamores.

But at the heart of it, we focus on three core priorities. For You, For Indiana State, and for Us.

For You means creating a student government association that truly listens and takes action. One of our key initiatives is increasing transparency and openness between SGA and the student body. Students want to be informed about policy changes, fees, and program updates. We want to make sure that information is accessible and clearly communicated.

For Indiana State, focuses on strengthening our campus partnerships and emphasizing collaboration. We want to ensure that all academic colleges feel represented and connected to SGA includes strong representation within our Senate. Building relationships with faculty, staff, and departments is something we are prioritizing. because meaningful collaboration leads to stronger outcomes for students. One of our initiatives was Blue Fridays 2.0. This event is something that SGA currently puts on, but we want to revamp it to bring in more student organizations consistently, as well as including departments with faculty and athletic teams.

For Us, it's about rebuilding connection and overall trust. Through our initiative centered on representation, we plan to be present across campus by visiting student organizations, attending events, and connecting with students in residential communities. We want SGA to feel approachable, visible, and actively engaged in our sycamore community. In addition to seeing these platforms come to life, we are also excited to put other ideas into motion with tangible benefits for students.

We are looking into ideas that make student life on campus and in the greater Terra Haute community more enjoyable and accessible.

Overall, myself, and the rest of my administration are ready to get to work to benefit all of our sycamores. I am incredibly passionate about Indiana State, and I am committed to building an SGA that is transparent, collaborative, and truly representative of our whole student body. I look forward to working alongside all of you to make a meaningful impact on this campus. Thank you.

Report of the President – Dr. Mike Godard

Thanks, Chairman Pratt, and good afternoon to everyone. And I echo what Liz just shared, that if there's one thing we are at Indiana State University as faculty and students and staff is resilience.

So even in the face of our learning management system going down, our faculty still showed this immense level of care for our students. Our students remained patient through that process as well. And so, I'm very thankful for that.

Along with that, I will just say, Chase, thank you. Thank you for your leadership, for your service to SGA, but most importantly, to your university as well. And I was telling Chase and Miles when we had the transition of SGA just about a week and a half ago at this point, right around there, that I'm just glad that they're going to be with us and next year as well. We're going to continue to be able to build relationships together and be able to see what's possible.

And Olivia, we've got to get to know each other. And I have no doubt that you and Campbell will just continue to do great things because you've already done so many good things for Indiana State and for your fellow students. And I have no doubt that your leadership will continue to develop, and we're all going to benefit from that as well. So, thank you as well for that.

I will say as we come to an end of an academic year, there's a lot of things to celebrate. But we also recognize that there's challenges as well. A couple of days ago, I sent out an end of the academic year message to our campus community and highlighted some of those, but I thought it was worthwhile this afternoon to just kind of talk a little bit about some of those.

One of those, it's kind of fresh in our mind because it was on tax day this year. Andrea did that, I think, very intentionally, that our Give the Blue Day was on April 15th, and it was a tremendous success. And we're so grateful for the contributions that friends and alums made back to Indiana State University by raising $2.35 million in a 24-hour period of time with nearly 2,500 donors. And I do think one thing that's worth mentioning over and over again is that we had 520 gifts that were made by our current students on Give the Blue Day, which I think speaks to that level of engagement of our current students wanting to be difference makers, not only when they graduate with their degrees from Indiana State, but even before that, and truly speaking to what we value here at Indiana

State. And that's an exceptional student experience for all of our students. And to see our students buy into that truly is touching. And so, thank you to our students and to our faculty, our staff, our alums and friends of the university who took part in our Give the Blue Day.

Athletics over the past couple of months has had some successes as well. Our women swim and dive team, yet again, won the Missouri Valley Conference Championship. back-to-back championships for them. We had Grace Cummings, a freshman on our team, first individual qualifier for the NCAA National Championship meet in university history and then went on to score points as well. And so that's a huge milestone for not only that program, but for our institution.

Congratulations again to Grace and Josh Christensen, our coach. He was named Coach of the Year again for the Missouri Valley Conference. And then certainly our women's track and field program continues to excel. They won for the third time in a row and the fourth time in five years in the Missouri Valley Conference Championship. They're on their way to do great things in the outdoor season as well.

We continue to look for ways to brand the institution and making sure that we're not the best kept secret. And so, I hope that a lot of you, as you've walked across campus, have seen the new banners on the light poles. We've seen our new logo that we're pushing out as well. We want there to continually be that pride in what we do at Indiana State and how we do it.

Maribeth and her team did a great job making sure that this came to fruition, that when you're in the middle of campus, especially in the quad, that you know that you're at Indiana State University. And so now I think with those light pole banners, it really gives that sense of community and belonging here at Indiana State. You know where you're at.

We transitioned from Barnes and Noble as our bookstore provider to Follette, and that has went as quickly as we could expect. I look at Seth because he wanted it to be a little bit smoother, but a few hiccups along the way, but we're very thankful to have all that as our partner.

And then certainly the progress that we're making on the Bailey College of Engineering and Technology, and that's on schedule. And we're looking forward to welcoming students into that renovated space and some new space as well in January of 2027.

And we will be making progress towards eventual renovation of our common spaces and HMSU. More to come on that in the future. I hope this highlights just a few things in terms of Indiana State University moving forward in a positive manner. Not that we're not going to continuously have some challenges to deal with, but I want us to celebrate the positive, celebrate the momentum that's there and look forward to the future. There's a lot of optimism that's in front of us, and we'll continue to look for those opportunities for strategic growth, but to make sure that we continue with that culture of care, the career connectedness in what we do with our academic programs, and the opportunities that we want to continuously put in front of our students to develop their leadership skills.

Huge congratulations to our graduates who will walk across that stage in the Hulman Center tomorrow at either 9, 12, or 3. It'll be a nice long day in the Hulman Center, but it also looks like it's going to be a nice day outside to have some beautiful pictures taken as well with family and friends. Looking forward to celebrating with our students and celebrating with their families as well. Go Sycamores!

Report of the Board Chairperson – Trustee John Pratt

Good afternoon and thank you all for being here. As we near the close of the Spring semester, Indiana State University has much to be proud of and even more to look forward to for the Fall semester.

This semester has been marked by meaningful progress, strong collaboration, and continued momentum across our campus. Our students, faculty, and staff have continued to demonstrate the dedication and resilience that defines Indiana State University.

With Commencement just ahead, we look forward to celebrating the accomplishments of our graduates and recognizing the many people who have helped them reach this milestone. It is one of the most rewarding moments of the academic year and a proud occasion for our entire university community.

I want to take a moment to congratulate Dr. Liz Brown on her re-election as Faculty Senate Chairperson. Her continued leadership and partnership will be important as we carry this momentum into the next academic year.

I would also like to thank Student Government Association President Chase Witsman for his service and leadership this year. Chase has represented Indiana State students with professionalism and thoughtfulness, and we thank Chase for your partnership and your service to Indiana State University. We also welcome Olivia Lancaster as the new Student Government Association President and look forward to working with her in the future.

Finally, June marks President Godard's two-year anniversary as president. Results of his presidency include the largest freshman class in five years, a record retention rate of 69.4 percent, historic Give to Blue Day results, and a campus full of energy and spirit. All reflect strong executive leadership and a clear commitment to the university's mission.

Indiana State University's future remains strong because of the people who lead, serve, and invest in this university every day.

3c New Programs: Mental Health & Well-Being Minor

Date Prepared: March 28, 2026
From: Faculty Senate
Prepared by: Dr. Lindsey Eberman, Acting Vice Provost for Academics
Presented by: Dr. Brad Balch, Interim Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs
Presented at: May 8, 2026
Subject: New Minor in Mental Health & Well-Being Disposition: Item is for Action

Objective:

This 18-credit undergraduate minor provides students with an opportunity to learn about mental health and wellness from diverse perspectives. This program will prepare students to understand mental health problems as well as strategies for intervening and improving mental health.

The program will be offered both on campus and online.

Background of Issue:

The field of mental health and wellness is growing in popularity and significance. There is growing awareness that mental health is a critical component of overall health, and there is an increasing focus on workplace mental health, wellness programs in corporate settings, and digital mental health solutions. Students with a background in mental health will be well-positioned to take advantage of emerging job opportunities such as wellness coordinators in schools, businesses, criminal justice settings, and healthcare settings. The minor will also prepare students with the knowledge and practical experience needed to pursue careers in more traditional settings including mental health agencies and nonprofits. By providing students with the tools to understand and engage with mental health issues, this minor will foster deeper knowledge and greater empathy in the field of mental health and well-being.

This new mental health and well-being minor will provide more comprehensive knowledge about mental health while retaining a focus on the development of counseling skills. We anticipate that the new minor will be popular with students from diverse programs and with diverse interests. The minor is being offered collaboratively through the following Departments: Psychology, Applied Clinical and Educational Sciences, Social Work, and Applied Medicine and Rehabilitation.

3d New Programs: Safety, Health, & Environment Management

Date Prepared: March 28, 2026
From: Faculty Senate
Prepared by: Dr. Lindsey Eberman, Acting Vice Provost for Academics
Presented by: Dr. Brad Balch, Interim Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs
Presented at: May 8, 2026
Subject: New Undergraduate Certificate in Safety, Health, & Environment Management
Disposition: Item is for Action

Objective:

This 12-credit undergraduate certificate provides an overview of occupational safety and health disciplines, examining principles and tools for managing environmental performance in industrial settings including regulatory frameworks, environmental management systems, and sustainability practices. Students study adult learning theory and training techniques while exploring current issues and technologies in occupational safety, health, and environment, with emphasis on management systems and program administration.

The program will be offered both on campus and online.

Background of Issue:

Many industries, including manufacturing, construction, and energy sectors require professionals who understand the intersection of worker safety and environmental impact. While many employees have "on-the-job" experience, they often lack the formal training in Environmental Management Systems (EMS) and regulatory frameworks needed to move into supervisory roles. The 12-credit certificate can serve as a resume-boosting credential to already enrolled students or as a way to upskill quickly for working professionals.

No additional funding is needed.

Supporting Reasons and Timing for the Recommendation:

This program will need to be approved by routine staff action by the Indiana Commission of Higher Education. The proposal was approved by Faculty Senate on 2/26/2026.

Prepared by: Dr. Lindsey Eberman, Acting Vice Provost for Academics
Presented by: Dr. Brad Balch, Interim Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs
Presented at: May 8, 2026
Subject: Revision to the Constitution of the Faculty of Indiana State University
Disposition: Item is for Action

Objective:

Revise the Constitution of the Faculty of the Indiana State University to accurately reflect current unit structure.

Background of Issue:

Changes occur throughout section 145 of the Constitution. The College of Graduate and Professional Studies and University College no longer exist. The Library no longer exists as a college-equivalent subdivision.

145.1.2 Definition of University Faculty. All appointees with academic rank ~~and the professional librarians~~ shall constitute the regular faculty of Indiana State University.

145.3.1.1.4 ~~College of Graduate and Professional Studies, University College, and Honors College.~~ The ~~College of Graduate and Professional Studies, the University College and the~~ Honors College ~~are not~~ is not a coordinate academic subdivisions in this sense and ~~are~~ is not entitled to separate representation in the University Faculty Senate.

145.5.2 Jurisdiction Relative to the College/Library. When a college/library of the University, through its legislative body, protests an action of the University Faculty or the University Faculty Senate as encroaching on the autonomy of a college/library, the University Faculty Senate shall reconsider the question. The University Faculty Senate shall determine the issue unless the legislative body of the college/library appeals from this decision of the University Faculty Senate and the University Faculty. In such event, the Secretary of the University Faculty Senate shall call a meeting of the University Faculty and conduct a subsequent vote as provided in Sections 145.1.4 and 145.1.5.

145.6.2.1 Faculty Grievances. A member of the University Faculty or a group of faculty members may bring a grievance not falling within the authority of a college/library directly to the Executive Committee of the University Faculty Senate or may appeal a grievance to the Executive Committee after avenues of relief within the college/library affected have been exhausted.

145.7.1.3 Representation. The members represent the University Faculty, not the college/~~library~~ to which they may belong, and no college/~~library~~ is as such entitled to representation on a standing committee.

145.8 Relationship with College/~~Library~~ Governance Bodies

145.8.1 Representative Governance. The faculty of the colleges/~~library~~ are guaranteed a representative form of governance in respect to the formulation and administration of internal policy and the right to participate in the selection of their chief administrative officers.

145.8.2.1 New College. Within one (1) year of the establishment of any new college, it shall submit to the University Faculty Senate an acceptable plan of internal governance consistent with this Constitution and Bylaws.

(Constitutions of the colleges/~~library~~ have been approved/amended by the University Faculty Senate on the dates as indicated: College of Arts and Sciences – April, 2000; College of Business – April, 1998; College of Education – Fall, 1992; College of Health and Human Performance – May, 1996; College of Nursing – April, 2000; College of Technology – March, 1986; ~~Library Faculty – April, 2003.~~)

145.8.3 Autonomy of the Colleges/~~Library~~. Each college/~~library~~ shall be autonomous in matters of internal policy, subject to the provisions of its constitution and bylaws and to actions of the University faculty and the University Faculty Senate pursuant to this Constitution and bylaws.

~~145.8.4 College of Graduate and Professional Studies. The faculty of the College of Graduate and Professional Studies, being already members of the faculties of their respective academic units, shall not as a graduate faculty have a representative form of governance. The policies of this College are determined by the Graduate Council of the University Faculty Senate subject to approval of the University Faculty Senate. The College of Graduate and Professional Studies is, therefore, excluded from the autonomy provided by this Constitution.~~

3h Revision to Policy 146.2.1.2.2.3.1 Search Committee Membership Nominations

Date Prepared: March 28, 2026
From: Faculty Senate
Prepared by: Dr. Lindsey Eberman, Acting Vice Provost for Academics
Presented by: Dr. Brad Balch, Interim Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs
Presented at: May 8, 2026
Subject: Revision to Policy 146.2.1.2.2.3.1 Search Committee Membership Nominations
Disposition: Item is for Action

Objective:

Modify the language of 146.2.1.2.2.3.1. to revise the way in which the Faculty Senate conducts administrative search committee membership nominations.

Background of Issue:

Changes reflect a centralization of authority for developing administrative search committee slates to the Administrative and Economic Affairs Committee.

146.2.1.2.2.3.1 Search Committee Membership Nominations. Upon notification by the Chairperson of the University Faculty Senate, the Administrative and Economic Affairs Committee shall generate a pool of at least (15) fifteen faculty that represent all Academic Colleges, all ranks of the regular faculty, and the ethnic and gender composition of the faculty. This pool will be created by the Administrative and Economic Affairs Committee after a formal call for nominations by the committee to all regular faculty. From that pool, the Administrative and Economic Affairs Committee shall nominate two slates (without overlap) to serve on the presidential or academic vice presidential search committees. The pool and the two slates will be forwarded to the Executive Committee of the University Faculty Senate for approval by the University Faculty Senate.

146.2.1.2.2.3.1.1 Role of the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate will review the two slates to ensure the search committee is broadly representative of the University faculty, and recommend one or both of the slates to the Faculty Senate. ~~If the Executive Committee rejects both slates, it shall compose a third slate from the faculty pool generated by the Administrative and Economic Affairs Committee.~~

146.2.1.2.2.3.1.2 Role of the Faculty Senate. The Faculty Senate will act on the recommendation of the Executive Committee. If the Executive Committee has recommended more than one slate, an immediate single vote will be held between the two slates, with the one generating the higher number of votes to approve being adopted.

If the Executive Committee has recommended one of the original slates, but not the other, the Senate will vote to approve or reject this slate. If it is rejected, an immediate, single vote will be held between the two ~~Administrative and Economic Affairs~~ slates, with the slate generating the highest number of votes being the Senate's recommended slate.

~~If the Executive Committee has composed and recommended a third slate, an immediate, single vote will be held among the three slates, with the slate generating the highest number of votes being the Senate's recommended slate. If no slate receives a majority of the vote, a run-off vote will be held with the slate generating the higher number of votes being the Senate's recommended slate.~~ The Chairperson of the Faculty Senate shall communicate the approved slate to the Chairperson of the Board of Trustees or the University President (or their designees).

3j Naming of the Woodruff Sycamore Loft

Date Prepared: March 23, 2026
From: Andrea Angel & Nathan Christensen
Prepared by: Andrea Angel, Vice President of University Advancement & Nathan Christensen, Director of Athletics
Presented by: Andrea Angel, Vice President of University Advancement
Presented at: Friday, May 8, 2026, Board of Trustees Meeting
Subject: Naming of the Woodruff Sycamore Loft
Disposition: Item is for Action

Objective:

This item requests Board of Trustees approval to name the Woodruff Sycamore Loft within the Hulman Center. The naming is in recognition of Troy & Melissa Woodruff for their $1,000,000 gift to support this project.

Background of Issue: Troy and Melissa Woodruff are long-standing and deeply committed supporters of Indiana State University, with strong personal and professional ties to the institution, the region, and the State of Indiana. Troy Woodruff, a graduate of Indiana State University and a current member of the university's Board of Trustees, along with his wife, Melissa, has demonstrated sustained leadership and philanthropy in support of both the university's academic and athletic missions.

In recognition of their most recent generous gift in support of Indiana State Athletics and the continued enhancement of the Hulman Center, it is proposed that a premium hospitality space be named the Woodruff Sycamore Loft. This naming opportunity reflects both their significant financial commitment and their long-standing passion for Sycamore Athletics.

The Woodruffs' history of giving to the university includes impactful investments, including the naming of the Benny E. Woodruff Cancer Research Lab and the RQAW classroom in the Bailey College of Engineering and Technology in 2022, underscoring their dedication to advancing academic excellence. In addition to their philanthropy, Troy's service in the United States Marine Corps, the Indiana House of Representatives, and executive leadership roles with the Indiana Department of Transportation, RQAW, and current role as Owner of Build BW, a development, construction, and facilities management company, highlight his enduring commitment to the state and its institutions.

Their love of Indiana State Athletics has been evident over the years through active support, including extensive travel to cheer on the Sycamores. The proposed naming of the Woodruff Sycamore Loft within the Hulman Center is an appropriate and meaningful recognition of the Woodruffs' generosity, leadership, and unwavering dedication to Indiana State University.

Funding Source:

An irrevocable pledge for this gift has been signed by the Donors and received by the Indiana State University Foundation.

Supporting Reasons and Timing for the Recommendation:

The amount of the gift for this naming opportunity is consistent with the Indiana State University Naming Policy. Construction is scheduled to begin in May 2026, with plans to complete the project by November 2026.

3k Naming of the E. Daniel and Sue Reinhard Family - Safety, Health, and Environment Lab

Date Prepared: April 2, 2026
From: Andrea L. Angel, Vice President of University Advancement
Prepared by: Andrea L. Angel, Vice President of University Advancement
Presented by: Andrea L. Angel, Vice President of University Advancement
Presented at: May 8, 2026, Board of Trustees Meeting
Subject: Naming of the E. Daniel and Sue Reinhard Family - Safety, Health, and Environment Lab
Disposition: Item is for Action

Objective: This item requests Board of Trustees approval to name room 221 in the Bailey College of Engineering and Technology the E. Daniel and Sue Reinhard Family - Safety, Health, and Environment Lab. The naming honors a $257,000 gift from E. Dan Reinhard in support of the Safety Management program, which will soon be renamed the Safety, Health, and Environment program, and scholarships for students in the Bailey College of Engineering and Technology.

Background of Issue: Dan Reinhard, a 1968 graduate of Indiana State University, was born and raised in Terre Haute. After spending three years in pharmacy school, he returned to Indiana State in search of a different career path. Recognizing his strong background in science, a professor introduced him to a new program in environmental health. Dan became the program's first student, which led to his selection as its first co-op/internship participant. That experience launched a distinguished 34-year career with the U.S. Navy.

After a decade conducting environmental, safety, and occupational health surveys across the Navy and Marine Corps, Dan served two years as Special Assistant to the Navy Surgeon. He was then appointed as the first Director of Environmental, Safety, and Occupational Health for the Secretary of the Navy, a role he held on the Secretary's staff for 23 years.

Following his retirement, Dan was recruited to develop a program supporting Secretary Rumsfeld's initiative to reduce fatalities and non-combat mishaps across the Department of Defense. He proposed the creation of the Defense Safety Oversight Council and served as its principal subject matter expert for 13 years before retiring once again.

This new scholarship aims to prepare future professionals to safeguard employees' lives across a wide range of workplaces nationwide.

Funding Source: The donor has committed a cash pledge of $257,000.

Supporting Reasons and Timing for the Recommendation: The gift amount for this naming opportunity is consistent with the Indiana State University Naming Policy.

Potential Concerns Arising from the Recommendation and Steps Needed to Address Them: No known concerns.

3m 2026-27 Operating Budgets

Date Prepared: April 3, 2026
From: Dr. Mike Godard, President
Prepared by: Seth Hinshaw, Vice President Finance & Administration/Treasurer
Presented by: Seth Hinshaw, Vice President Finance & Administration/Treasurer
Presented at: May 8, 2026 Board of Trustees Meeting
Subject: 2026-27 Operating Budgets
Disposition: This item is for Action

Objective: Approval of the proposed 2026-27 General Fund, Line-Item, and Auxiliary and Other Operations operating budgets and Student Activity allocations as shown in the attached Exhibits.

Background of Issue:

The General Fund operating budget (Exhibit I) includes all direct costs of instruction as well as most administrative functions, including salary and fringe benefits, utility costs, and university provided student aid. The General Fund budget is supported by two major revenue streams: state appropriations and student tuition.

The State of Indiana provides a separate appropriation, known as fee replacement, to offset the principal and interest on student fee bonds used to finance academic facility projects authorized by the General Assembly, reviewed by the Commission for Higher Education, and approved by the State Budget Committee. Institutions are required to issue debt associated with these facilities and pledge student tuition dollars as repayment. The State then replaces the pledged tuition through a fee replacement or debt service appropriation. The payment of fee-replaced and non-fee replaced academic debt service is included as a direct expense line in the General Fund budget offset by the Academic Debt Service appropriation and other income in the revenue section of the budget.

A portion of student tuition is allocated to operating units within Designated and Auxiliary fund groups to support activities and related programs (Exhibit II). The funds are primarily used to offset operating costs for those units supported by these allocations.

Line-item appropriations and Dual Credit funding (Exhibit III) are received by the State of Indiana to support specific programs. Indiana State University is responsible for two line-item appropriations: Degree Link and Nursing Support. The Dual Credit appropriation is based on a State formula rather than a flat appropriated amount.

The proposed General Fund and Line-Item summary budgets and Student Activity allocations for 2026-27 are prepared with the following key planning assumptions:

- State Operating Appropriation as contained in HEA 1001 (2025) - does not change for 2026-27.
- Fee Replacement Appropriation – increase of $95,478 corresponding to the FY27 required payments for debt service on state funded capital projects.
- Student Tuition – no increase in resident undergraduate or graduate student tuition. A 5% increase in non-resident undergraduate and graduate student tuition.
- Salaries and Wages – a $1.6M salary and benefit pool for faculty and staff with distribution to be determined.
- Health Insurance – a 5% increase based on current medical trends and projected health claims expenditures.

- Utilities – increase of $1.4M to better align the budget with projected actual expenditures based on growing utility costs.
- Other Committed Expense – increase in property and general liability insurance of $1.1M to better align projected expenditures with the budget.

Auxiliaries are operated as independent units supporting students and the University in various capacities. Residential Life is the largest University auxiliary unit. Each of the Auxiliary units generates outside revenues to support the individual operating budget of the unit. The financial planning components for the General Fund Operating budget were also used in the preparation of Auxiliary budgets (Exhibit IV).

Funding Source: Operating budgets are funded by appropriations from the State of Indiana, student tuition and fees, room and board, and miscellaneous revenue items.

Supporting Reasons and Timing for the Recommendation: Approval of the 2026-27 Operating Budgets is needed to begin financial operations, effective July 1, 2026.

Potential Concerns Arising from the Recommendation and Steps Needed to Address Them:
None

Management Recommendation: The 2026-27 Operating Budgets and Student Activity allocations be approved as presented and authorizing the President of Indiana State University to establish salaries and wages within the capabilities of budgeted resources.

Motion seconded by: Carolene Mays

3n Series U Student Fee Refunding Bond

Date Prepared: April 3, 2026
From: Dr. Mike Godard, President
Prepared by: Seth Hinshaw, Vice President Finance & Administration/Treasurer
Presented by: Seth Hinshaw, Vice President Finance & Administration/Treasurer
Presented at: May 8, 2026
Subject: Series U Student Fee Refunding Bond
Disposition: Item is for Action

Objective: The Board of Trustees approves the sale of Series U, Student Fee Bonds.

Background of Issue: Indiana State University has several outstanding Student Fee Bonds (SFB), namely Series T, S, R, Q, and N, totaling a par value of $95 million as of June 30, 2025. These bonds are mainly financed by the State of Indiana through annual fee replacement appropriations, which are set at $10,498,371 for FY2026 and $10,593,848 for FY2027.

Three SFBs—Series N, Q, and R—can be called by October 1, 2026, with a combined par amount of approximately $41 million and interest rates ranging from 3.00% to 6.64%. Given current and future bond market trends, the University expects sufficient cash flow and present value savings to justify issuing the proposed Refunding Series U Bond. The anticipated savings will mostly benefit the State of Indiana by reducing the required fee replacement appropriation.

Earlier this spring, the University sought proposals from several national financial institutions for underwriting and investment banking services. Following the competitive evaluation process, Stifel was selected based on their pricing of services as well as value added to anticipated financing. Additionally, the University utilizes the services of an independent financial advisor on all debt financing – Blue Rose Capital Advisors. Annual principal payments are expected to start on October 1, 2026, and continue each October 1 thereafter.

Funding Source: The Series U Bond issuance will facilitate the redemption and refinancing of multiple outstanding SFB series, consolidating existing debt obligations into a single refunding structure to achieve cost savings and streamline debt service payments.

Supporting Reasons and Timing for the Recommendation: Indiana State is dedicated to being a responsible steward of taxpayer funds. By approving this resolution, the Board enables the University Treasurer to respond promptly when market conditions present the greatest opportunity for savings, benefiting both the institution and taxpayers.

Section 11. The Board hereby finds that the current refunding of the Refunded Bonds that are supported with fee replacement will benefit the University because (i) a net savings to the University will be effected (including near term cash flow benefits to the University); or (ii) the net present value of principal and interest payments on the Series U Bonds will be less than the net present value of the principal and interest payments on the outstanding Bonds comprising such Refunded Bonds. Further, the Treasurer is hereby authorized to cancel or defer the effectuation of the Plan of Financing as approved by these Resolutions, if they conclude in their discretion that it would be in the best interest of the University to do so based on any combination of national or world events which disrupt the financial markets or substantially change market conditions.

3o Series 2026 Housing & Dining Revenue Refunding Bond

Date Prepared: April 3, 2026

Presented by: Seth Hinshaw, Vice President Finance & Administration/Treasurer

Subject: Series 2026 Housing & Dining Revenue Refunding Bond
Disposition: Item is for Action

Objective: The Board of Trustees approves the sale of Series 2026, Housing & Dining Revenue Bonds.

Background of Issue: Indiana State University has several outstanding Housing and Dining (H&D) Revenue Bonds, namely Series 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2019, 2021, and 2022, totaling a par value of $59 million as of June 30, 2025. These bonds are financed by net income of the H&D system and related pledged funds.

Three SFBs—Series 2014, 2015, and 2016—are currently callable at par value, with a combined par amount of approximately $25.4 million and interest rates ranging from 3.00% to 5.00%. Given current and future bond market trends, the University expects sufficient cash flow and present value savings to justify issuing the proposed Refunding Series 2026 Bond. The anticipated savings will reduce the demand for operating funds from the Housing & Dining Auxiliary and support an efficient repayment schedule.

Earlier this spring, the University sought proposals from several national financial institutions for underwriting and investment banking services. Following the competitive evaluation process, Stifel was selected based on their pricing of services as well as value added to anticipated financing. Additionally, the University utilizes the services of an independent financial advisor on all debt financing – Blue Rose Capital Advisors. Annual principal payments for Series 2026 are expected to start on April 1, 2027, and continue each April 1 thereafter.

Funding Source: The Series 2026 Bond issuance will facilitate the redemption and refinancing of multiple outstanding H&D series, consolidating existing debt obligations into a single refunding structure to achieve cost savings and streamline debt service payments.

Financial Report - Vice President for Finance & Administration/Treasurer Seth Hinshaw

Before we jump into the fiscal 2027 university budget, I want to quickly spend a moment providing a quarter three financial update similar to the one that was provided in February.

There's some good news to share. Similar to the fall, spring tuition revenue continue to follow the same path, and we find ourselves nearly half $1,000,000 above budget for tuition revenue. However, we expect to be down just a little bit from budget for summer. We'll be tracking that very closely, but by and large, we expect to hit our tuition revenue targets this year, which of course is very good news.

Other fees and charges continue to fall above budget and nearly half $1,000,000 in total revenue compared to the same period in the previous year. Similar situation for program fees was up nearly $150,000 in the previous year as well. Adjusted and planned budgets carry forward maintain what we showed previously as a year-over-year matter.

It is still down that 1.8 billion, largely due to the reduction in carry forward. And then reimbursements and reappropriated income are still up from the previous year. However, that's slightly increased from the last report that I gave. But importantly, to 10,000 foot level, non-state income is up nearly $2 million year over year. which we're really glad to see and report on.

For expenditures and compensation, we find ourselves, as we expected, to be about 1.6 million under budget for compensation, and we're about 2.1 million down from previous years. This was largely due to reallocations of unfilled positions and reorganizations that took place last summer and related to anticipated savings that are traditionally found in compensation from unfilled positions that occur throughout the year. Similarly, departmental expenditure shows savings of about 1.6 million from the previous year. This has been lowered from what I reported in February, but that's largely a matter of timing with regards to invoices that came in near the end of the period.

Utilities were still on track to exceed the budget by about 1.5 million, and I'll talk a little bit more about that when we get to the 2027 budget presentation portion. And we're up about $800,000 above the same period of the previous year.

Scholarship and fee remission are similarly still on track to exceed the budget target here largely due to our housing scholarship, which we'll have a little bit more information on in just a moment. But total spending is trending down, which is very good news to see when we had a good enrollment year, good housing year, and yet we're spending a little bit less than the previous year on scholarships.

Capital improvements planned a little bit underspend on the budget and down from the previous year as part of our strategy to address state withholding across the biennium.

And the operating reserve will be used to shore up along with some of these areas of savings and the compensation pool, for example, to shore up some of those overages that will be tackled during the fiscal year end closeout process.

With that, we will move into the 26-27 university budget. We're primarily going to focus on the general fund operating or current operating budget. I'll have just a little bit of information regarding the auxiliaries towards the end of the presentation. I'll note that the details for this material can be found starting on page 65 of the board packet.

At a 10,000 foot level, we began with, of course, what you would expect to bring forward a balanced budget that provides for strategic investment in line with the university's strategic plan and takes the opportunity to realign and right size based off some of the information we've been sharing at these quarterly updates to provide a little more clarity and to simplify some of that information as we begin fiscal '27 in earnest.

So as we look to the '27 budget, it's first important to talk a little bit about fiscal '26, and we wanted to take this opportunity to create a little additional clarity around how the university budgets general fund dollars. Specifically, this is an excerpt from exhibit one, or what we call the front page of the budget, the general fund budget.

You'll notice that we are showing a $14 million restatement for what is gross tuition revenue. The reason for this is we've kind of carved this off the top from revenues at the university for many years to support student activities here on campus, things like the Hulman Center, athletics, our colleagues and the student organizations to support them.

However, we feel that because that is part of gross tuition revenue, it made sense to restate that. And so, we're showing this as a fiscal '26 restatement so that when we compare '26 to '27, it doesn't look like there's a large ballooning in revenues and expenditures. We're just tying that in. So, we'll match that against the expenditures as we get further into the budget.

For other revenues, we're also showing, the tuition piece, program and course fee totals here for the first time. I want to stress; these program and course fees have gone through the board for approval over the past several years. We just have not shown that in the budget at a budget level, a university-wide level in the past.

We've kind of treated each of those individual course and program fees as that little micro auxiliary. So, we believe that this brings a little more transparency to the university budget, will not change the allocation of those funds whatsoever, but will allow for year-over-year changes to be a little more clear and transparent moving forward.

On the expenditure side for restatements, we have about $1,000,000 of salary and benefit costs that we're taking off the general fund side of the ledger. Moving on to the auxiliary, specifically with regard to athletics for athletic trainers. Several years ago, athletic trainers were graduate students. Because of that, they were paid out of the academic affairs budget where graduate students are covered. But due to some changes, they were moved to professional staff. As professional staff, we think it's more appropriate to highlight that cost in the auxiliary where the services are being provided.

Further, as I mentioned, that $14 million of gross tuition revenue supported the student activity allocation over the years. We're going to show that as an expenditure now in the budget. So, it's going to match the revenue and the expense will match. But again, to highlight the fact that this is an active decision by the University Board. It is not auxiliary. This is an allocation of general fund dollars. And then similarly, the program and course fees will match the revenues coming in. It will be a pass through the general fund. But for the sake of clarity and transparency with the campus community, we felt it was appropriate to state that the general fund budget is moving forward.

So now we are moving into fiscal '27. State appropriation does not change. I will highlight the 5% withholding, which I know has been a topic of conversation with this body, of course, over the last year, has not structurally baked into the budget. We will treat it as a one-time revenue shortfall and match it against expenditure controls. We have a plan to manage that in fiscal '27. However, you won't see a line in the budget or reduction to general fund revenues as shown here. We will maintain what was concluded in legislation in the budget bill.

Tuition, I will highlight here. As the President, I know, often says, you know, we'll budget conservatively, but we'll dream big and we'll set stretch goals. And so, I just want to stress that we've taken a very conservative approach with tuition revenue here. I'd much rather bring the Board some positive surprising news than negative surprising news. And so we'll manage that at a pretty conservative level. I want to highlight the interest component of this. The university maintains strong reserves that produce conservative investment interest income every year. We use that for various purposes throughout the year. Sometimes a cleanup at year end, sometimes for one-time investment opportunities. We thought it was appropriate to take a portion of that interest income and add it to the general fund revenue. So, we are doing that on the front end of the budget as opposed to doing a cleanup at the back end of the budget, again, to create a little more clarity on revenue sources. And then to carry forward balance, this is an entirely new category for revenue in the fiscal '27 budget.

And that is equivalent to a half $1,000,000 carry forward sweep that the university will make at the end of this fiscal year from department level carry forwards to take into next fiscal year to support operations. We estimate that to be approximately 50% of that carry forward value.

In total, this represents approximately $4 million in change of revenue in the university budget. So, I want to highlight here that, as you can see, one of the outcomes of those restatements is that we've kind of split the share of university revenues that we are relying upon for tuition and fees as opposed to state appropriation is essentially A 41, 45% swap. And so now, as you can see, student tuition, while showing that full 14 million in gross tuition revenue, is the largest single source of revenue for the university.

While state appropriation is taking up a close second. We do think that there's value in highlighting this for our partners in Indianapolis to show that our students are the number one investors here at the university, and you know we look forward to continuing to grow there as well.

So next, we'll move into budgeted expenditures for fiscal '27, and we'll start with salary and benefits. One of the priorities moving into this budget development process was to find the necessary resources to provide compensation adjustments for staff. And so, this does include a $1.3 million salary pool for the university to work through allocating staff in the new fiscal year. Additionally, the university traditionally has fully budgeted salary for each position for the full 365 days of the year. What has created is a planned, but not budgeted, 3 to $4 million reserve at the end of every year.

As I mentioned previously, we're trailing several $1,000,000 below budget for salary reversions. We feel it is instead appropriate of using those reversions to cover up to address areas of excess spending at the end of the year to instead build that into the front of the year. So, we do have a $1.1 million reduction to our salary pool related to those reversions. And then finally, through a number of unfilled position liquidations and retirements.

There is a $1.7 million salary reallocation that will be used to support other expenditures in the year. A number of these other categories, whether repair and maintenance, insurance premiums, utilities, are largely going to be looking at right-sizing in the fiscal '27 budget. As you've heard from me report just earlier today, as well as in February, each of these areas, we are currently overspending the budget by not quite nearly $1,000,000, over $1,000,000 in some categories. So we feel that now is the time, based on current year spend and based on future year rate changes that we're anticipating consumption changes, that this was the opportunity for us to largely right-size the expenditure budget to appropriately show what we're truly expecting to spend in these categories.

Although utilities in particular, that $1.4 million of rightsizing included in the budget is also taking into account about $1,000,000 of planned savings from the institution through a number of actions taken. So that is a much smaller number than it otherwise would have been.

For scholarship and fee waiver, this is a projection. This is not necessarily a significant programmatic change. But again, I'd just like to highlight, as I mentioned earlier, we're trailing down year over year in scholarship, and yet we're seeing really positive outcomes from enrollment, from housing, and residence life.

And so, we're excited that we seem to be getting smarter and smarter with our financial aid through partnerships with the foundation and the financial aid office under enrollment management. So, we look forward to continuing to become more efficient with those dollars. And as I mentioned previously, there's about 2.5 million of interest income that we have been using to kind of right-size student activity allocations over the years predominantly in athletics.

This 2.5, I'll get into this more in just a moment when we get to the auxiliary. So, this 2.5 million is actually representative of a slight year-over-year decrease in spending, not a $2.5 million year-over-year increase in spending. I just want to clarify that's for the faculty too. I can kind of slip through.

So again, I'll just highlight very quickly, compensation obviously is the largest expenditure category for the university, student activities being the second largest, and finally scholarship and fee remission. And I think that that is a great focus of university investment. So finally, I just want to quickly hit on the auxiliaries, and I'll note that, again, this is included in the packet in front of you in more detail.

The university has approximately $182 million current operating or general fund budget. Additionally, there is another $67 million budget expenditures that takes place at our auxiliary units. When you remove any transfers involved, the university is very close to 1/4 of a billion-dollar organization and about 20% of that resides in the auxiliary unit.

So I think it's worth bringing that to light and highlighting that for the Board. So, of those 13 unique auxiliary units, about $19 million represents transfers, things like that student activity allocation being a great example of it, as well as nearly $50 million in earned revenue. Obviously, housing and dining leading the charge on that, but athletics as well, bringing in several $1,000,000 a year in revenue.

Speaking of housing and dining, by and large, even during a period of freezing housing rates, I believe two years in a row, we're still expecting increased revenue for housing. We're also expecting increased revenue from dining, largely passed through to our dining partner at Sodexo. There's been strong interest in some of the new housing options that this board approved at the February meeting, specifically Hines and Jones Hall have been very exciting. And so, thank you to Nancy and her team for leading the charge on preparing students for that transition over the summer and into the fall.

I also want to highlight that we will be moving a housing specific scholarship to the housing and dining auxiliary with the fall. And that's primarily one of the drivers of while even though year over year our scholarship spending has gone down, we're a little bit over budget. It's largely tied to the housing scholarship. What this means is housing and dining will need about a $1.4 million transfer from their reserves to make that whole for fiscal '27.

But beginning in fiscal '28, thanks to more than approximately $2 million of debt rolling off the books, they will be able to make up for that very quickly within less than a two-year period and will be structurally sound moving forward.

I should also note that housing dining has ample reserves. And so, this doesn't put them in any type of critical situation, but does recognize that scholarship will then be associated with the benefit being provided to those students. As I mentioned with athletics, there's a $2.5 million right sizing from the general fund tied to that student activity allocation, which is representative of a small decrease year over year in university support.

And then finally, I want to end on a really exciting note here. We talked a little bit about the Flight Academy in our February meeting when we were speaking on fees. And I want to highlight that the university is expecting, or saw a very significant increase in enrollment in that program this year. We're expecting another strong year of enrollment next year.

The university is committed to that through the rental and purchase of additional planes and hangar space and instructors and all of the things that come along with that. My procurement office jokes that they're in the plane buying business at the moment. But the exciting piece of that is this is all, this is enrollment driven. Enrollment is what's driving the revenue growth in our auxiliary unit and we're excited to see where we go from here.

This is just a visual aid breakdown of all the auxiliary units by expenditure. Obviously, you won't be surprised to see housing and dining and athletics are the two largest categories.
